

DeiC conference 2024

Sponsorship brochure

Become a sponsor!

An exceptional opportunity for exposure at this year's conference for everyone working with e-infrastructure for research and education.

Welcome to the DeIC Conference 2024 – the event of the year in supercomputing, network, data management, security, and related services. The conference is the meeting place for everyone working in the field of e-infrastructure, especially for research and education.

The DeIC conference 2024 focuses on current challenges, opportunities, and solutions in four tracks: Data Management, HPC and Quantum Technology, Network and Services, and Security.

What we offer sponsors

Sponsors will have a booth in the exhibition area, located close to the four conference rooms. In the exhibition area, participants will also have the opportunity to enjoy breaks and coffee.

A booth measures 3x2m. A more detailed overview of the exhibition area with possible placements and booth sizes will be provided later.

In the largest sponsor package, we offer a 25-minute presentation or workshop in one of the conference's 4 tracks.

If you wish to have a presentation in this year's program, we need to know at the very latest by Monday, June 3rd. Please provide information about the track, topic, and possibly the speaker's name. Feel free to ask us about the topic and content. The Program Committee will then assess the submitted proposals.

Based on previous years' experiences and feedback from participants, we suggest that you:

- Emphasize the technical aspects rather than the sales pitch in your presentations.
- Make the presentation interactive, for example, by organizing a workshop or other engaging activities.
- Provide the title and description of the presentation as soon as possible so that participants can familiarize themselves with your part of the program when planning their visit.
- Participants are professionals in their field, so we recommend that, in addition to your booth, you also mingle with participants, both at the official networking events and in the discussions that arise in various sessions. This can help you establish valuable, strong, and long-term connections."

Present your technical solutions to the technical experts who have close contact with users and meet their everyday needs. The atmosphere at the conference is informal. Participants place great importance on professional and social networking opportunities. This provides a good foundation for initiating contact afterward for more business-oriented meetings. We expect around 220 participants at the conference this year.
